THE MONROES AND MRS. WHITTICO'S TRIP

On Sunday morning Aug. 23rd, Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Monroe and son Billy called at the Whittico home for Mrs. M. T. Whittico to go for a month's vacation. We went by the way of Union and Old Sweet Springs in W. Va. and on to the Lee Highway in Va. After making several stops to view the scenery and to eat a well prepared lunch, we arrived in the Nation's Capital at 5:45 P. M.

Dr. and Mrs. Monroe stopped with Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews. Mr. Matthews being the brother of Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Matthews a cousin to Dr. Monroe. Mrs. Whittico stopped in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose White. Mrs. White is the niece of Mrs. Whittico. Monday the Monroes spent the day visiting friends while Mrs. Whittico was taken by Mr. Harold Harvey and her niece to Annapolis, Md., where they went through the only Naval Academy in America. In this Academy was found among the large number of students one colored. This was the second Capital so soon to be visited. The rest of the day was spent at Willow Bathing Beach in Md.

Tuesday morning at 10 A. M. found us leaving the city of Washington for other points. Our next stop was a two hour visit with Prof. and Mrs. Rheuben Jones of Baltimore. Passing through Wilmington, Del. and Philadelphia, Pa. we found our selves stopping in Trenton, N. J. the Capital of that state.

Here we visited the homes of Prof. and Mrs. P. J. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cogdell. It will be remembered that Mr. Hill was at one time a teacher in the High School at Kimball. Mr. Hill is the principal of the only Colored Jr. High School in Trenton and has 36 teachers on his faculty, a student body of twelve hundred, with a modern building with equipment for Home Economics, drawing, printing, swimming pool, etc. We found here in the office a W. Va. graduate doing her work effectively and satisfactorily.

This was the best equipped and managed Jr. High it has been our pleasure to see.

The Cogdells are pleasing people to know and have on your list of friends. Mrs. Cogdell is very efficient in the musical world, was at one time music supervisor in Maryland. She now runs a holiday gift shop, being the only colored woman who takes part in gift display exhibits given in the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York City, once each year. We left here at 2 P. M., passing through Hartford, the Capital of Connecticut, and at 9 o'clock arrived in Boston, Mass., where we stopped with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vincent of 967 Blue Hill Ave. Mrs. Vincent is the charming sister of Mrs. Monroe and a most hospitable hostess.

Boston a City Capital of the state of Mass. is the commercial metropolis of New England. It is at the West End of Mass. Bay and comprises Boston proper—East Boston, South Boston, Roxbury, Dorchester, Charlestown, Brighton and West Roxbury. Boston is especially noted for its great park system. Among the attractions are the Common, Public Garden, Back Bay Fens, Jamaica Pond, Bussey Park, Arnold Arboretum, Marine Park and Charles River Embankment.

In the Common a Soldiers' and Sailors' monument. In the Public Garden are an equestrian statue of Washington, a bronze statue of Edward Everett, a statue of Charles Sumner, one representing Venus rising from the sea and statue of Crispus Attucks. We saw the market spot where Attucks fell in the Boston Massacre. Where Paul Revere stood when he received the lantern message from the Old South Church. We saw too the Old South Church.

The State house stands on Beacon Hill, it is 490 ft. long, 21 ft. wide with a colonnade in front and an imposing gilded dome. Just across the street is the Robert Gould Shaw monument with Negro soldiers and horses inscribed life size to commemorate the Negroes of Boston who lost their lives in the Civil War.

The Bunker Hill monument is 220 feet high, 31 feet square at the base, 15 feet at the top. Within is a winding stair case 11 feet in diameter. It contains 4 windows which afford a magnificent view, directly in front of this is a statue of General Gage, in his exact pose when he said "Don't shoot until you see the white of their eyes." In the museum of Fine Arts we listened to the state Symphony Orchestra and saw there many paintings including that of "The Lord's Supper." At the Botanical museum of Harvard University we saw arts of various races. The blown glass flowers were a thing of beauty. The story goes that a father handed the formula down to the son, The son died with the secret. The Rhododendron looked as if it had been plucked from a bush in our own native state. We passed over the Charles River of which the poets have written so beautifully and into the grounds of fair Harvard. The next day found us down on the southern coast of Cape Cod at West Falmouth.

Our next move was up through New Hampshire into Maine, stopping awhile at Newbury Port, Portsmouth, Portland, Brunswick and into Litchfield on to the Monroe Camp where we tarried four days from sight seeing to rest, fish and motor boat rides in and on the beautiful Lake Cobbasseecontee.

Here we visited with the genial and generous George Monroe Sr. in his camp. The Camp Lodge on the balcony floor has a large living room, a large open fire place of which on either side has four private rooms. The living room has rockers, morris chairs, couches, card tables, everything to make it pleasurable and home like.

The gentlemen got the better of us at contract, but not so in Pinole. The dining room, kitchen, and boat house are under one roof. About 20 feet from either is Lake Cobbasseecontee. Directly across the lake is the Woolworth three million dollar camp. On our return we came through Boston, on to New Haven Conn. where we whiled away time with the esteemed Dr. Fleming and seeing Yale University, then to New York City. While here we took in Radio City, visited Columbia University, Grant's Tomb, shopped, ran over to Brooklyn, Tarrytown, New Rochelle.

In New York City it was our delight to meet with Dr. Clinton E. Yancy, who is doing a nice business was formerly a very successful dentist in Northfork, W. Va.

Myles a Prize has been recently appointed City Magistrate, First Colored Magistrate in the City of New York. He is a brother of Miss Page a former linotype operator of The McDowell Times. Wilford L. Harris, building construction engineer of the Department of Plant and Structure, New York City, formerly of Northfork, W. Va. and assisted in erecting the Presbyterian Church in Keystone, Capehart Bldg, Welch and George Hotel at Northfork, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Viney Stuart.

E. J. Graham attached to City Courts of New York, clerk of Court Office of Clerical Dept. A civil service position, formerly a lawyer in Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. Rose Yancy Wood, teacher of physical education in public schools of Newark, N. J., formerly a teacher in Northfork, W. Va. Miss Amelia Welcher, teacher in public schools in New York City, was formerly a teacher in Charleston, W. Va. is making an outstanding success in her work.

Leaving New York on Saturday we stopped with and in the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Patterson of Newark, N. J. He is a dentist of the first water, and has recently bought out a Summer Camp up state where he and his charming family might recreate during the warm part of the summers. Leaving at 11:30 we made our next stop in Baltimore on to Washington, visiting again for several days going to shows and meeting friends. Winding up our pleasure trip on Wed. we left Washington at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. we were back home in Keystone trying to figure out and make ourselves believe we had been somewhere after ruminating for awhile we came to our senses and decided it is true that we had been some where at least we had visited in eight states, and five capitals and saw four of the leading schools of America, concluding we recognized we had returned to the "Athens of America, the Jerusalem of the Universe, the Mecca of West Virginia, Keystone of McDowell County where you will find more political recognition for our group than you will find anywhere between the two poles.

When arrested in Keystone Balch had about $1,000 on his person. Mrs. Mastorlyan was held for court action at a preliminary hearing at Brownsville Friday.

WILLIAM R. HEARST MAKES REPLY TO PRES.

Washington, Sept. 21 — William Randolph Hearst, 73-year-old operator of 25 newspapers, published today "a reply to the president" in which he said he had shown Mr. Roosevelt had received support of x x x "enemies of the American system of government."

The 2,000 word statement was called by the vacationing Mr. Hearst from Amsterdam a day after a statement from the White House said "a notorious newspaper publisher was attempting to make it appear that the president passively accepts the support of alien organizations hostile to the American form of government."

The memorandum said: "Such articles are conceived of malice and born of political spite."
Hearst in his "reply to the president" expressed a desire to "correct Mr. Roosevelt's misstatement."
"I have not stated at any time whether the president willingly or unwillingly received the support of the Karl Marx socialist x x x which constitute the bulk of his following."

BELOVED COLORED RESIDENT DIES ON VISIT TO VIRGINIA

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lincoln were at Callaway, Virginia, Tuesday to attend the funeral and burial of Mrs. Eliza Price, 86, who passed away at her home there Sunday morning Sept. 13, after a short illness. She had gone there for a vacation.

Mammy, as she was known, was typical of the past generation of her race thus called, and had lived with the Lincoln family for 26 years. She had a large number of friends among the white as well as the colored because of her kindly and courteous manner. She had been a resident of Elkhorn for about 47 years. "Mammy" had no immediate family surviving. One son, who also lived with Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln for several years, was the last to precede her to the grave several years ago.

CAFE OWNER IN KEYSTONE TAKEN TO PENNSYLVANIA

Officers Accuse Him Of Being Implicated Insurance Money Theft

George Balch, proprietor of the E. End Cafe, Keystone, was arrested by Corporal C. E. Hawks, and Police Chief Fred Moore late last week for Brownsville, Pa., officers charging him with being implicated in the theft of $1,700 insurance money from a Blainsburg, Pa., man with whose wife Balch has been living in Keystone.

Balch was returned to Brownsville, Pa., by Chief Fred Straight and Constable Zack McTolley.
Mrs. Theresa Mastorlyan has been in Keystone for about a month. She returned to Blainsburg last week and while trying to get two of her children, she was arrested and charged with the theft of $1,700 from her husband. It is charged that the $1,700 represented what was left from the payment of insurance on a recent fire at the Mastorlyan home and that the woman and Balch left together and came to Keystone about a month

NEGRO LEGISLATION UNDER GOP REGIME

This Is The Second of A Series of Articles Purporting To Show The Republican Party As Friendly To The Negroes of West Virginia

(By WILLIAM L. SPRIGGS)

The Negro citizenry of West Virginia can honestly be proud of the statutes that pertain to their welfare. Once while I was visiting in Washington, President Hoover's secretary said to me, "Why I am certainly glad to know you, and especially that you are from the state of West Virginia. Indeed, you Negroes have done things. The first representatives the Negroes had in the legislature was in 1897. Since then a large number have had elective and appointive offices in state, county and city government. This political legislation is indeed significant to the Negro, while these rights have made him a sound and prominent factor in politics. There have been no laws enacted under the Republican administration, in any way, that have curtailed their rights. Nor have there been any unwritten laws, customs or practices to prevent the Negro from voting or holding public office. Can the Democrats say as much?"

More laws were enacted in 1919 and 1921, in the Republican legislature involving the welfare of the Negro than ever before. In the House of Delegates there were two aggressive Negro Republicans; Attorney T. G. Nutter, of Kanawha County and Attorney Harry J. Capehart of McDowell ably assisted by T. J. Coleman from Fayette. During this period the law which prevents the exhibition of pictures that tend to incite race prejudice and hatred, the law creating the deaf and blind institution, the industrial school for boys, the industrial home for colored girls and the state hospital for colored insane. The Bureau of Welfare and Statistics was created largely through the efforts of T. Edward Hill, who became its first director.

These early and persistent efforts of Negro Republican leaders and their accomplishments surely prove a challenge to the Negro voter of 1936. The all-important question which the Negro voter is called upon to decide on November 3rd, "Shall we remind ourselves of the early leadership of Republicanism and their friendliness to the Negro group, or shall we continue the extravagant policies of the New Deal? I quote one of our great Negro Statesmen, Frederick Douglass, "The Republican Party is the Ship All Else Is The Sea."
